Chakravyuh Written & Directed by Atul Satya Kaushik

Chakravyuh" is the story of the thirteenth day of the great battle of Mahabharata. It explores the episode of killing of Abhminayu in Chakravyuh formation and all the questions, myths, ideologies and convictions related to it at many levels. This play works as a bridge between history and present and connects them both with perennial concepts of "Karma" and "Dharma".

Gagan Damama Bajyo Directed by Abhishek Goswami

Written by Piyush Mishra

This play follows the events from the year of the Jallianwala Bagh massacre in 1919 to Bhagat Singh's hanging, along with Raj Guru and Sukhdev, in 1931. Today, once again in the name of 'nationalism' the separatist voices are getting political asylum and every citizen who holds critical thinking is being declared a traitor. At such a time, Gagan Dama Bajyo probably has already got practical relevance.

Cast: Garima, Akshita, Nikhil, Yashes, Pooja, Kewal, Yogendra, Gagan, Rahul, Paras, Ravindra, Sandeep, Naresh, Aman, Sagar, Akshay, Neerav, Kamelesh, Samarveer, Chitrarth, Rajesh, Prashant, Akshat, Deev, Aakib, Yogesh, Somesh, Sumit, Subham Gupta | Crew: Piyush Mishra, Tahimur Rana, Nishant, Swapnail, Kajol, Vishal, Anshul, Anuranjan, Kartikeya, Mohit, Nitika, Vijay, Abhishek.

Maaynay Gambhir Honay Kay

Written by Oscar Wilde

Adaption & Direction by Saurabh Srivastava

Maayne Gambhi Honay Kay is an adaptation of Oscar Wilde's "The Importance of Being Earnest". Srivastava's version is set in India in the era soon after independence, when princely states had just ended but the snobbery and lifestyle of the erstwhile aristocracy had not quite eroded. In this light-hearted comedy, after several farcical convolutions including a final dramatic twist, things fall into place and the laugh riot ends happily for all.

Cast: Kanav, Mukund Soni, Saurabh Srivastava, Susmita Srivastava, Surabhi Mathurm Mridweeka, Tripathi, Nishtha Puri, Shashi Kiran,Himanshu | Sound: Nidhi Sharma Lights: Preeti Dubey | Crew: Susmita Srivastava | Make-up: Bhuvnesh Bhatnagar | Prop Management: Sangeeta Rathore|Stage Management: Purshottam Sharma | Stage Assistance: Krishna Pal, Vallari Srivastava

Inhe Dekha hai Kahin Written & Directed by Ishteyak Arif Khan

During the performance of a play in a village, some villagers get offended by content of the play as they think that it is against their culture and women. There is a debate between the artists and the local people because they have different views on the theme. The stressful debate soon turns into a challenge. The two groups decided to create something from the works of Hari Shanker Prasad and Chelakh.

Cast: Vishwnath Chatterjee, Alok Gagdekar, Ishteyak Khan, Rinku, Laxmi, Moni Ansari, Munish, Dheerendra, N. Saari Raat

Directed by Ruchi Bhargav

Saari Raat is about the decision of moving from one realm of reality to another. And it is presented using the two realms we know best - the realm of reality (real/practical/perceived world) and the realm of our dreams. In this world, people from multiple realms co-exist together, but there are many people who are stuck between two realms. The play inspires you to shed the immobility, realize the innumerable opportunities the life offers and decide!

Written by Badal Sarkar
Adapted by Pratibha Agrawal

Agni aur Barkha

Directed by Zafar Khan

Agni aur Barkha is a Hindi translation of a Kannada play "Agni Matu" written by Girish Karnad which is based on a chapter from Mahabharata which is believed to be a myth. The origin of the drama is that the sense of selfishness brings humans to the level of betraying their own relatives and closed ones. This play is not history but depicts present, just the characters and the times have changed.

Written by Girish Karnad
Adaption by Ram Gopal Bajaj
