PREM RAMAYAN

Written & Directed by Atul Satya Koushik
The Films and Theatre Society, Delhi

Synopsis:

From his extensive research on Ramayan, Atul Satya Koushik, ace theatre writer, director and producer, offers Prem Ramayan. In this live show, he picks "stories of love" from the epic and narrates them in his inimitable style. The show has elements of live singing (both folk and classical) with exquisitely choreographed dance pieces and spell binding theatrical performances by seasoned actors.

A true representation of glorious Indian traditional art forms along with age-old Indian stories of divine love, this show is bound to transport the audience to a different era and give them a mesmerising experience.

This is Atul Satya Koushik's gift to today's generation which should go a long way in preserving and promoting the great art of storytelling in India. This is also a stepping stone in taking the Story of Ram forward in a totally new, refreshing and different manner. Show is an absolute favourite of audiences of all ages and is specially liked by the youth of this country.

The audio version of the show in the form of a podcast is already a super hit and is running successfully on all podcast platforms.

The show will feature following stories

- अकाल - Story of Shanta and Rishi Shringi
- रथ से निकला पहिया - Story of Kaikeyi and Dashrath
- स्वर और शांति - Story of Ram and Sita
- उल्टी करवट मत सोना - Story of Laxman and Urmila
